

Motion: better deadlines for propositions

1. Background

Currently the deadline for propositions is significantly longer than that for motions. As a consequence of that, if the board of DS wants to present propositions to the General Assembly, two meetings will be needed: one for preparing the propositions and another one for preparing the board meeting and discussing the motions.

Calling for board meetings has a high cost for DS (at least 13 times the number of hours it last currently) and is usually complicated. Also the board might want to present a proposition based on the motions presented by DS members or provide a formal answer to the motions, both of which need to happen before the final agenda is published seven days before the General Assembly.

Therefore it would be valuable to change the deadlines so that the board can only have one meeting to do all of these activities.

2. Motions

In light of the foregoing, the undersigned move:

that section 2.9 of the statutes is changed from:

“Propositions are made by the board of the guild and should be announced on the preliminary agenda.”

to:

“Propositions are made by the board of the guild. To the extent possible, propositions should be announced on the preliminary agenda. Propositions must always be announced on the final agenda.”
